

Honourable guests, dear rector, deans, esteemed professors, parents, friends and the amazing class of 2022. Good evening to you all.

It is an honour and privilege to be here today to address the graduating class of 2022. I want to start by giving thanks to Allah for His guidance and assistance in helping me reach this momentous occasion. Alhamdulillah, Alhamdulillah, Alhamdulillah. Praise be to God, Praise be to God, Praise be to God.

It has been a long and challenging journey, but one that would not have been possible without Allah's help. I am incredibly grateful for His blessings and for the opportunity to have received a quality education.

I would also like to extend my gratitude to my family most especially my dad, who have been my biggest supporter throughout this journey. Thank you for your love and belief in me. I could not have done it without you.

Graduation is a time to celebrate our accomplishments and to reflect on the challenges we've overcome. It's also a time to remember those who didn't make it this far. For every student who walks across this stage today, there's someone who wasn't able to complete their studies. Whether they dropped out, failed a class, or experienced some other kind of setback, they didn't give up. They fought, and they should be applauded for their determination.

As we move forward into the next phase of our lives, let's keep our friends who couldn't complete their studies in our thoughts. They remind us that it's never too late to achieve our dreams. They remind us of the importance of persistence and resilience. And they remind us that, no matter what happens, we always have the power to pick ourselves up and start again.

Finally, I would like to thank the faculty and staff of this institution for your dedication and commitment to our education. Starting with my course advisor Dr. Olcay, the dean of the aviation faculty Professor Dr. Suleyman Tolun, Professor Amir, Professor Sahin, Professor Cihan, and Professor Emete. Thank you for preparing us for the challenges that lie ahead.

To my friends and classmates, thank you for your company and many laughs along the way. I will never forget our time together and I wish you all the best in your future endeavours.

University was just the beginning of our journey. Let's continue learning and growing, and making our dreams a reality. Congratulations, Class of 2022! We did it!
